DRC
Danube Rectors' Conference

Dear subscribers to the DRC Newsletter,

First of all, let us express our utmost support to all of you during these extraordinary times and while taking radical measures at the universities to slow the contagion related to the Covid-19 disease.

We are wondering how we could help our member universities during these difficult times. Please read the first point of the newsletter to find out more!

Although university students are currently staying home and are fully dependent on distance learning, they can still connect via digital communication with someone who nominates them for the Danubius Young Scientist Award 2020. Check the Award criteria and nominate your colleague!

During quarantine they also can continue to write the paper for our thematic issue of the journal "Der Donauraum" bringing up the problem of fictional democracy - a new form of façade democracy that produces illiberal fictions of democracy. The contributions will be published within the framework of our Jean-Monnet-Project.

Finally, they can also find the time to prepare the necessary documents for their applications for the 7th Young Scholars Forum on Central and South East Europe taking place in Vienna on December 2-6, 2020, under the title of "European narratives - in search for common diversity".

Enjoy reading and remember, feedback and comments are always welcome!

1. COVID-19 MEASURES AT THE UNIVERSITIES

We are experiencing extraordinary and difficult times. All European countries and their institutions, including universities, are currently tackling with the spread of the Covid-19 disease.

Although the disease has already spread across the continent, the greatest impact of the crisis on the countries in our target region - Central and South-Eastern Europe - is still ahead. Individual governments have already introduced emergency measures to ensure the consequences of the pandemic have been as much as possible minimized. By nature, these measures also deeply affect the functioning of universities and other educational institutions. The introduction of different forms of distance learning is an unprecedented and in many ways challenging situation for most universities in the region.

Therefore, we decided to explore how university associations such as DRC could contribute to alleviating the impact of government measures on universities, whereas our focus primarily refers to various forms of the distance learning (E-learning). The collected information on the possibilities of the distance contact could consequently also be used during our DRC Annual conference taking place in November this year.

We would like to ask you to share your ideas and recommendations for our activity during these times of crisis and to share with us your experience, know-how and good practices in order to face the current situation.

Please contact us via our e-mail address info@drc-danube.org

We wish you every success in coping with the emergency measures and take care of yourself!

3. CALL FOR PAPERS | FIFUDEM

CALL FOR PAPERS

Thematic issue of the regional journal "Der Donauraum":
From Fictional to Functioning Democracy.
Developing Concepts and Strategies for an Inclusive and Participatory Europe

Submission Deadline: May 31, 2020

Language: English

Liberal democracy appears to be at risk – both in Europe and abroad. New forms of populist democracies spread, framed by biased political communication through ideological misinformation, hate speech and tribalism. Authoritarian politicians try to turn Europe into an arena, where metaphorically speaking leaders of tribes are fighting each other by any tools to cement their own positions. In parallel with the rise of xenophobia, populism and radicalisation, liberal democratic principles such as checks and balances are gradually eroding. Moreover, the lack of a common public sphere is challenging European integration processes. Decreasing press freedom and increasing mistrust in traditional media pave the way for populists that rely on oligarchic media networks and use the effects of so-called 'filter bubbles' and 'echo chambers' on social media. Biased (social) media thus creates but a mere individual fiction, the façade of a homogeneous world corresponding to the viewers' perceptions.

As part of the Jean Monnet Project titled "From Fictional to Functioning Democracy \(FIFUDEM\)", carried out by the Institute for the Danube Region and Central Europe (IDM) and Danube Rectors' Conference (DRC), the thematic issue of the journal "Der Donauraum" brings up the problem of fictional democracy - a new form of façade democracy that produces illiberal fictions of democracy. With this publication, the editors Dr. Erhard Busek and Dr. Silvia Nadjivan aim to collect practical visions and scientific approaches for actively committed citizenship in a functioning democracy, embedded in a common and inclusive European Union. Below we present a list of potential (not limited) topics for the thematic issue:

- Use of Education for Democratic Participation

- Ways of Political Responsibility for Functioning Democracy
- Concepts for Interrelations of Civic Engagement and Liberal Democracy
- New Democratic Forms of (Social) Media Communication

With this Call for Papers we are seeking both junior and senior scholars and practitioners from various disciplines who would like to present their research results on this topic in the upcoming issue. In addition to invited authors, including the panelists of the projects' kick-off conference in January 2020, Vienna, the editors particularly encourage authors from Central East and South East Europe to complement the conference proceedings with their perspectives and ideas.

Further information on the guidelines for authors can be found here.

Please submit your paper (between 20.000-40.000 characters, spaces included) till latest May 31, 2020.

More information on submission conditions can be found here.

For more information on the project, please visit the IDM website.

4. CALL FOR APPLICATIONS | IDM YOUNG SCHOLARS FORUM

7th Young Scholars Forum on Central and South East Europe

“European narratives – in search for common diversity”

02 – 06 December 2020, Vienna, Austria

Europeans face Europeans. The national policies of the states making up the old continent continue to shape Europe's future at the expense of Europe as whole. The divisions among the countries are deepening, very often in a way that creates a crisis both internally and in a global context. The constant search of common narratives – as the basis for a common identity-based policy – seems to be increasingly difficult in the face of fragmented political spectrum and ever-more differing policy approaches in Europe. The purpose of the Forum is to provide space for young scientists to find what is common to all Europeans.

As part of the 3-day event, 20 young researchers from all over Europe are invited to present and discuss their research work related to the topic of the Forum, as well as to network among themselves. The conference will take place on the first two days under the direction of experts within four thematically different panels:

- Europe as an area of peace and stability
- Europe as a space of cultural diversity
- Europe as a global actor

- If not the EU, is there/has there been an alternative?

The third day is designated for further exchange among participants during a thematically appropriate social programme in Vienna and Lower Austria.

Who we are looking for

We are seeking a maximum of 20 young scholars working on Central and South Eastern Europe in the fields of peace research and security policy, cultural studies, political sciences, economy, geography, sociology, media studies and history to contribute with their research to the analysis of the afore-mentioned issues and to find a common narrative that would held the future Europe together.

Aims of the Forum

- Promoting and encouraging young scholars to engage with Central and South East Europe
- Presentation of research by young scholars to a wider public
- Exchange among young and more advanced researchers on topics, methods, sources and results
- Networking
- Furthering mobility within the region
- Publication of contributions and results

More information on the programme and the submission process can be found on the IDM website.

5. JRC - Call for expressions of interest for the Collaborative Doctoral Partnerships (CDP)

We are pleased to inform you that the Joint Research Centre (JRC) has published the second call for expressions of interest for the Collaborative Doctoral Partnerships (CDP) in the following fields:

1. Digital Governance
2. Smart, connected and clean mobility
3. EU Energy Transition
4. Development of methods to monitor progresses, design transformations and identify solutions to achieve SDGs
5. Secure and sustainable supply of raw materials for strategic value chains
6. Artificial intelligence for earth observation
7. Graphic causal models for hybrid threats
8. Resilience of built infrastructure to natural and man-made hazards
9. Health promotion and prevention of non-communicable diseases (NCDs)
10. Non-power nuclear and radiological technologies to achieve the SDGs 2030 Agenda
11. Synergies of qualitative and quantitative methods for anticipation activities
12. Behavioural insights applied to policy-making
13. Robustness in complex data analysis and statistical modelling

The call is opened to higher education institutions/universities from EU Member States and countries associated to the EU Research Programme Horizon 2020.

Please disseminate and share widely among your university contacts and scientific networks.

The deadline for applications is 3 May 2020.

You can find more information on the webpage of the JRC.

The call for the empowerment of young leaders through the active involvement at Bled Strategic Forum 2020 is open!

For the past decade, the Young Bled Strategic Forum (Young BSF) has been bringing together young leaders from all over the world to engage in lively discussion and develop innovative solutions to some of the most pressing global issues. It has become a unique meeting place for a diverse array of young leaders, entrepreneurs, influencers, thinkers and social activists, offering them a platform to share their visions, exchange ideas and connect.

The 2020 Young BSF will focus on reinventing the role of youth in society, which is indispensable in creating a resilient and sustainable global environment capable of responding to the challenges of the 21st century through the reinvention of our societies. In today's rapidly changing world, it is crucial to take the youth on board when addressing the challenges of the future.

A special focus of the Young BSF shall be devoted to cross-regional cooperation and macro-regional strategies. A new generation of leaders will demonstrate that such collaboration is not only necessary but also inevitable for positive next steps in democratisation, the advancement of human rights, sustainable development, women's empowerment, counter-terrorism and the fight against climate change. To achieve all this, young leaders need to learn from their peers from different regions, sharing their knowledge, ideas and know-how.

Interested participants from EUSDR and EUSAIR are eligible for financial support.

Please apply at <https://bit.ly/38FUnPw> by 5 April 2020 at the latest.

You can find additional information on the Forum here.

Should you have any additional questions, please do not hesitate to contact the organizers at young@bledstrategicforum.org.

10. LE:NOTRE Landscape Forum 2020

The LE:NOTRE Institute along with the Slovak University of Agriculture in Nitra, the Slovak University of Technology in Bratislava and the Vienna University of Technology organise the 9th LE:NOTRE Landscape Forum with the main theme Cross-Border Landscapes in Bratislava from April 21 to 25 2020.

Forum participants can benefit from:

guided city walks, workshops, interesting keynote lectures, a whole-day landscape experience, discussions with local experts and stakeholders and thematic working groups on cross-border landscape vision, sustainable urban growth and green infrastructure, rural fringe, foodscapes and nature development, heritage and identities, landscape democracy, and landscape economy.

Forum participants can also submit a posters or thematic essays which will be published in the forum's e-book.

For more information, please, visit the website.

UPDATE:

LE:NOTRE Landscape Forum 2020 Goes Online

Unusual times need unusual solutions. The LE:NOTRE Team and organisers of the forum have been carefully observing the development of the COVID-19 situation across Europe, including travel restrictions and regulations on organisation of larger events both in Slovakia and Austria.

These restrictions, along with growing concerns of potential participants, have led the LE:NOTRE Institute Board to the decision to transform our forum into a 1-day online event on April 22 (Wednesday) in the Adobe Connect room of LE:NOTRE Institute. This online event will include the planned keynote lectures and the international student competition award ceremony.

11. CALL FOR APPLICATIONS | "Sharing Future" Residence scholarship 2020

The Danube Rectors' Conference (DRC) is pleased to announce that the Call for applications for the "Sharing Future" Residence scholarship 2020 of the International Elias Canetti Society is now open!

Also in 2020, the DRC is funding one residence scholarship that enables the scholarship holder to pursue his/ her artistic work within one month in the summer of 2020 at the Canetti House in Ruse, Bulgaria.

The Canetti Artist Scholarship is aimed at artists from all over Europe. The fact that it is also advertised to artists from neighboring countries - from the Western Balkans and Turkey, should in particular provide opportunities for international, artistic exchange. Various different forms of arts should be fostered by the scholarship: painters, photographers, writers, performance artists, translators and musicians can apply for it. The slogan of the scholarship "Sharing Future" aims at a collaborative creation and cooperation for a joint Europe and a common future.

The scholarship is advertised for one month a year.

The scholarship holder can

- pursue his/ her artistic work undisturbed in the spring / summer of 2020 in Ruse
- use the historic Canetti house as work place with various possibilities for artistic expression using the space (photos attached)
- get to know the local cultural scene in Ruse and Bulgaria and use the resulting synergies and artistic realization
- live in an apartment provided by the IECS
- receive 1200 € for contribution and 300 for € travel expenses or 1500 € for both combined

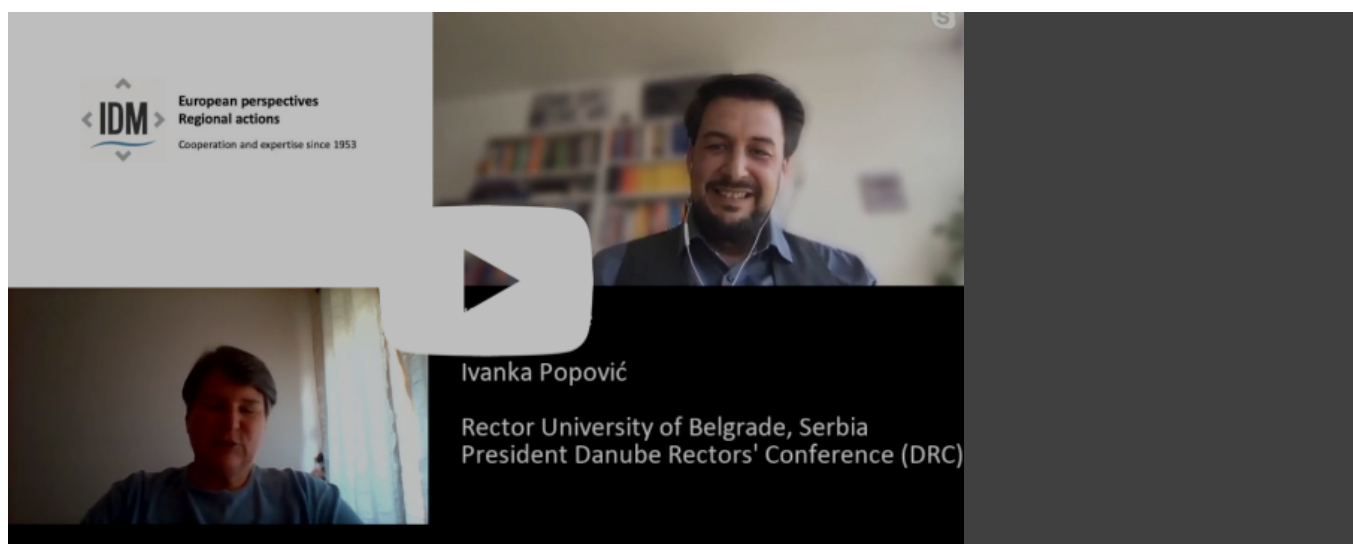

Application documents to be submitted:

- artist curriculum vitae
- significant illustrations of the artistic works in personal catalogs or a portfolio
- brief outline of the planned project

The application with all documents should be sent to eliascanetti@eliascanetti.org not later than 30th of March 2020.

You can find more information on the call here.
